PREFACE

The American Language Course (ALC) is designed primarily for an intensive language training program. However, these materials can also be used in nonintensive programs. The course will provide students with a sufficient level of fluency and communicative proficiency in American English to enable them to successfully pursue technical or professional training in schools conducted by the Department of Defense.

The General English Phase of the ALC consists of six progressive levels of language proficiency training. Levels I through V consist of six separate instructional packages each. Level VI contains four.

Level I	Books 1 - 6
Level II	Books 7 - 12
Level III	Books 13 - 18
Level IV	Books 19 - 24
Level V	Books 25 - 30
Level VI	Books 31 - 34

The coordinated instructional packages for Books 1-30 consist of the following:

1. Instructor Text
2. Student Text
3. Audiotapes
4. Instructor Language Laboratory Activities Booklet
5. Student Language Laboratory Activities Booklet
6. Quiz Kits
7. Optional training aids

Inquiries concerning these materials, including requests for copies, should be addressed to Commandant, Defense Language Institute English Language Center, ATTN: LERW, 2235 Andrews Ave., Lackland Air Force Base, Texas 78236-5259.

Recommendations for improving this edition are encouraged. Letters should be addressed to: Commandant, Defense Language Institute English Language Center, ATTN: LEAC, 2235 Andrews Ave., Lackland Air Force Base, Texas 78236-5259.

NOTES TO THE STUDENT

This booklet contains the Language Laboratory Activities (LLA) for Book 17.

You will need a pen or pencil and this booklet to do the activities correctly. All directions are given orally on the tapes. It is important to listen carefully to the instructions and to do the things the tape tells you to do. You will be told to repeat words or sentences and to ask and answer questions. You will also be told to choose and mark certain words or expressions, or to write special words, phrases, or sentences. Most of the time the tape will give you the correct answers right away, so you can check your work. Sometimes the tape will tell you to look on a certain page for the answers. Relax, listen carefully, and respond!

Ken and Karrie live in an efficiency apartment. It's too small for them, so they want to find a new apartment. They've been watching the advertisements in the newspaper closely, reading each ad carefully. They are looking for an unfurnished place because they have their own living room and bedroom furniture, but they don't have the big kitchen appliances, like a stove and refrigerator. They want to have central heating and air conditioning rather than window air conditioners. The utility bills may be higher with central air, because it uses more electricity, but they don't care. It's more important to them to have the good service of a central heater and air conditioner available than to pay lower bills. They need to have public transportation available, too, because they both work and they have only one car. They can take turns riding the bus to work if they can get an apartment close to a bus stop. They are going to have a hard time finding exactly what they want.

Ken and Karrie couldn't find an apartment that was exactly what they wanted, the perfect place for them, so they decided to advertise. They wrote their ad for the paper. It read: "Wanted to lease: A one-bedroom, one-bath unfurnished apartment in the northwest section of town, furnished with large kitchen appliances and central air and heat, near public transportation, water paid. Renter willing to paint the walls of all the rooms before moving in for a percentage off the deposit." They took the advertisement to the newspaper. The clerk helped them write the ad, so it would include all they wanted it to and exclude the unnecessary words. The new ad read: "Wanted to lease: 1 bdrm, 1 bth apt; nw sec; furn w/lge kit appl's & c/a/h; nr pub trans; wtr pd. Willing to paint for % off dep." Ken and Karrie wondered if the ad would be understood and answered.

Someone answered Ken and Karrie's ad, and they found an apartment last week. It's located in the northwest district which is the part of town they wanted. They signed a one-year lease yesterday, so the apartment is theirs for one year. The electricity is supposed to be turned on today after they pay the deposit that is due. The owner told them that their rent will be due the fifth of each month. They were going to pick out the color of paint today, and Karrie decided she would dye the drapes a color to go with the paint. But they couldn't agree on the colors. They argued about it for awhile at the paint store, but the argument didn't last too long. They finally agreed on the colors, and Karrie will get the dye tomorrow. They are happy with their apartment, and there's lots of privacy because there are no neighbors close by.

Mike: Yes, George gave me four five-dollar bills.

Mark: But don't you need some one-dollar bills?
Mike: No, five-dollar bills are fine.
2. Greg: Do they live in a two-story house?
Gary: No, as a matter of fact, they live in a twelve-story apartment building.

Greg: I think I prefer a one-story house.
Gary: Oh, I wouldn't mind a two-story house, but I wouldn't like the twelve-story apartment building.
3. Tony: Do you want a two-door or a four-door car?
Troy: I prefer a four-door car. It's easier when you have people riding with you.

Tony: I guess so, but I like the looks of a two-door car better.
Troy: I'd choose the convenient four-door car over the good-looking two-door car.

Discipline is a very important part of a soldier's training. A soldier who can't learn discipline will never be able to work successfully in the military. New soldiers must learn to listen to orders and follow them. They must learn about correct military appearance. They need to learn how and where to display their insignia on their caps and uniforms. They need to learn how to display respect to their superiors. They have to learn when and where and how to salute. In general, they need to know how to act in a disciplined, military way. A soldier who has discipline is easier to work with than a soldier with no discipline because he can be depended on to do what he is supposed to do. He knows that rules are mandatory and he must follow them. His leader has indicated to him what he has to do, and he does it. He doesn't have to be shown twice.

Figure 2

1. a. He does what he is supposed to do.
b. He doesn't always follow orders.
2. a. You shouldn't spend a lot of money in that part of town.
b. You shouldn't show a lot of money in that part of town.

FATHER'S DAY! 9 1 2 Champagne Breakfast	REMEMBER DAD ON... FATHER'S DAY JUNE 19!	JOIN YOUR FRIENDS AT THE CLUB!

Certain things are expected of military personnel as a part of their daily lives. One thing they are expected to do is participate in the activities of their clubs. If they are officers, they should eat some meals at the Officers' Club and if there is a party there, they are expected to go. If they are NCOs, they participate in games, parties, and gatherings at the NCO club. They support their clubs by attending them and also by paying money. A nice thing about the clubs is that they give military personnel a chance to associate with each other. They can talk, eat, and enjoy themselves together. A club is a nice place for them to gather together and it's not too expensive. Military officials do not make officers and NCOs join these clubs, but it is expected of them.

Figure 3

Respect for our national flag and the national anthem is rendered on military bases at a ceremony called Retreat. Retreat is the ceremony at which the flag is lowered at the end of the day. The commander of a base governs the time for Retreat. He decides when it should take place. The ceremony sometimes includes a parade--some of the best trainees may march--but not always. The sound of guns and the playing of the national anthem are indications that the flag is being lowered even if you can't see it. Participation in the ceremony is mandatory for all military personnel, even those who are across the base. They must stop what they are doing, stand at attention, and salute. If they are in civilian clothes, they should remove their hats and place their right hands over their hearts.

Figure 4

1. a. He's going to see the base commander retire.
b. He's going to see the flag lowered.
2. a. He wants to know who the leader of that country is.
b. He wants to know what the symbol of that country is.
